Proposed New Divisional Boundaries

The divisional boundary proposals generally follow county and local authority boundaries. However, the Structure Coordination Design Group heard from the Divisional Design Groups and others that there should be some exceptions as this would significantly benefit local mission flourishing. Please see below, the counties comprising each division as well as any proposed exceptions:

1. Central and Southern Scotland

Argyll and Bute	Falkirk	Renfrewshire
City of Edinburgh	Fife	Scottish Borders
Clackmannanshire	Glasgow City	South Ayrshire
Dumfries and Galloway	Inverclyde	South Lanarkshire
East Ayrshire	Midlothian	Stirling
East Dunbartonshire	North Ayrshire	West Dunbartonshire
East Lothian	North Lanarkshire	West Lothian
East Renfrewshire	Perth and Kinross

There are no exceptions proposed for the Central and Southern Scotland Division. However, Berwick-upon-Tweed, although an English town, is at present in East Scotland Division and will move to Central and Southern Scotland Division.

2. Central, Southern and Channel Islands

Bedfordshire	Channel Islands	Isle of Wight
