

Illegal Migration Bill Call to Prayer Digital Toolkit

Created in June 2023

Background:

As the Illegal Migration Bill continues its passage through parliament, we are asking people to come together in prayer on 12 July to pray for justice for the victims and survivors of modern slavery and for wisdom for our politicians as they debate this bill.

At present, all victims of modern slavery - regardless of their background - are entitled to specialist support such as safehouse accommodation, wraparound holistic support and assistance in accessing essential services to help them recover from their ordeal and move on with their lives.

In its current form this bill will remove that right for thousands who have fallen victim to human traffickers through no fault of their own, preventing them from breaking free from the criminals exploiting them.

How you can get involved:

Thank you for your support with this campaign. To help spread awareness of this issue and get as many people as possible to join us in prayer we are asking for your help to share information about the call to prayer with your networks in one of the following ways;

1. Re-share our content on social media to help spread the word about the wider campaign.
2. Pray with us at a crucial moment on Wednesday 12 July as the Bill continues its passage through parliament.
